Digitisation: HIH Group Selects Assetti as its Web-Based Platform Solution

Hamburg, 4 October 2018 – The HIH Group will be using Assetti as its web-based asset management tool to drive the progressing digitisation of its management processes. This was announced by the company today. Assetti supports the seamless collaboration between the individual business units within the HIH Group.

“I consider the digitisation of our company and industry an important business driver, and new digital applications like Assetti are an excellent way to expedite this transition,” said Erik Marienfeldt, Managing Director of HIH Real Estate GmbH.

The HIH Group will employ Assetti to enhance the management of its assets and to restructure its processes in more efficient and transparent ways. The asset management platform of Assetti sets up a connection between internal and external players in the company, and in its first application phase optimises the collaboration of property managers, asset managers and fund managers. In a next step, external partners such as investors, estate agents and appraisers will be brought in.

“We warmly welcome the HIH Group to Assetti. For too long, this industry has been characterised by dispersed data silos, leaving users with nothing more than Excel and email as the only ways to collaborate. Assetti, as an easy-to-use asset management tool, will revolutionize this collaboration and bring great value to the HIH Group”, said Hannu Rantanen, co-founder and CEO of Assetti.
